

Miyoko Preaching Point

Praise the Lord from Miyako!!! The month of may has been full of opportunities to reach out into the community once again. In the picture posted above my wife and I went to her bosses home to have dinner with him and some of her co-workers. As the night went on we were able to share our testimonies of how God had powerfully changed our lives, and everyone was fixated on hearing more. We were then able to pray with the lady in purple and she said she looked forward to having Bible study in the future.

The second picture that is posted is the group of people we have been reaching out to in a village called Nishibe. We try to eat with them at least once a week and we ALWAYS end up talking about Christianity. I went on a spearfishing trip with my sea weed boss and 4 others and they all allowed me to pray for them before we went into the water and they were all so thankful. I know everyone wants to hear about people receiving the Holy Ghost, trust me I do to, but were doing everything we can to expose the people of Miyako to Jesus. I know so much more is taking place than meets the eye.

Last, I'm so excited to share about one of my English students. Her name is Nami and we have known her for about 3 years now, we pray for her several times throughout the week and have been doing so for quite some time. But our last lesson of May she came out for class and it turned into 3 hours of talking about how great of a friend Jesus is, testimonies, and the goodness of God. Then my wife and I gave her, her first Bible study ever and gifted her a bilingual Bible. She has since come back over, excited to tell us that she reads her Bible every morning and night for at least 15 minutes and feels that Jesus can actually be real, and that she wants him as a friend. (: I'm praying and believing soon she's going to be obedient to the Word she is reading.

I just want to conclude by saying God is so good and He has perfect timing in everything. The past month has been filled with opportunities to pray with and meet new people and share our testimonies. I know every person that gets to hear Gods Word has a seed of truth working in their heart. So, I thank you all for your continued prayer support for the work in Miyako. Were doing our best and we won't give up. God bless you all!
