New things in Uruguay... ✨

First of all, thank you! If you're reading this that means you support me, either financially or in prayer. For that I am eternally grateful. Your support means a great deal to me personally.

Welcoming the Urango family!

This month, we welcomed the Urango family who is taking the role as pastor of La Comunidad de Fe. It has been such an exciting time! I feel honored to be a part of this time of transition for both the Urango family and the Palma family. The sacrifices that both of these families have made for the sake of the gospel going forward is something to be admired. I am inspired by them both.

Teaching Sunday School!

It has been such a joy to teach the students in our Escuelita! We played games talking about the fruit of the spirit and the Tower of Babel. It was fun for the kids to race and see who could build the highest tower of plastic cups. Girls won! (obviously, haha!) I look forward to teaching and making Bible learning fun for them in February also.

Ministering in Worship & the Word!

Thanks to the Palma family, I have had many opportunities to minister in music and the word. It has been a joy to work with the church members learning new songs and enjoying the presence of God together. During one service in particular this month, the spirit of God swept over us beautifully and many church members were renewed and touched by the Holy Ghost. Some things I taught about included Saul's conversion on the road to Damascus and salvation in Jesus name.
