GREETINGS FROM HOLLAND!

After much prayer and preparation, I've arrived safely in the Netherlands for my 3-month stay. Leaving Texas wasn't easy, but I felt the Lord's leading in this journey, and I'm excited to share what's ahead. It's been quite the culture shock since I've arrived 30 days ago, but I couldn't be happier! From the moment I stepped off of the plane, to the moment I walked into church, I've been welcomed with such warmth, genuine love, and kindness from everyone. Adjusting to the time change and life of Holland is an adjustment I'm willing to make for this amazing opportunity!

RESPONSIBILITIES WHILE ABROAD

During my time here, I'll be helping Het Keerpunt in Dordrecht and Ekklesia Gemeente in Rotterdam. Part of my responsibilities include creating content for all social media platforms, singing on the praise team, attending Bible studies, being present at all events for the teens, youth, and young adults, assisting with Sunday school classes, and preparing for Pentecost Sunday. It's been a joy already to connect with believers here and see how God is moving in this part of the world.

SETTING INTENTIONAL GOALS

While in Holland, I've set a few key goals:

- Deepen my personal walk with God through this out-of-comfort-zone experience
- Build meaningful relationships with people in the churches and out in the community
- Serve faithfully and humbly, wherever there's a need
- Help prepare the churches for one of the biggest revivals coming, Pentecost Sunday!

Thank you for your prayers and support—your encouragement means more than words can express. I look forward to keeping you updated on all that God is doing in the weeks ahead!
