October has been a beautiful month of growth. I have had the joy of working alongside Joshua with the UPC-Rwanda Children's Sunday School. It has been such a blessing to see how consistent, kind and full of life he is. He connects so naturally with the students. They light up when he's in the classroom and always enjoy the humor he brings. Joshua carries a genuine hunger to grow and serve more deeply. Since we began working together in February, I have already seen such incredible growth in him, and his heart for ministry. It's been a joy to witness how God continues to shape and use him in this season.

I've also continued learning from Narcisse, the Director of Studies at DayStar Primary School. He is a man of quiet strength and full of wisdom. He is intentional in everything he does and says. His heart for God and his vision for pushing DayStar to the next level are truly inspiring. Through his example, I have learned the value of leading with humility, purpose, perseverance and passion.

This month has truly been one of growth and gratitude. It has been a reminder that when we stay rooted in the Word and walk faithfully, God brings forth fruit in ways we don't always to expect.
