

☀️ "A HALLELUJAH FROM ROMANIA"

"Therefore, my beloved brethren, be steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."
— 1 Corinthians 15:58 (NKJV)

Throughout the month of November, I had the privilege of serving consistently in the church through cleaning, hospitality, children's ministry, and media support. Each week was an opportunity to serve the Lord and our church family with joy, humility, and gratitude. At the beginning of the month, I served regularly in cleaning and babysitting the MK children, Sunday School, helping ensure that the church was welcoming, organized, and prepared for worship. These moments of service, though often behind the scenes, were done as an offering to God—knowing that a clean and prepared space allows hearts to focus fully on worship and the Word. As the month continued, I served in hospitality and cleaning, welcoming others with warmth and helping maintain a peaceful, orderly environment. Serving in hospitality allowed me to show Christ's love in practical ways, making sure everyone felt seen, cared for, and comfortable as they entered the house of the Lord.

On November 29, I participated in a deep cleaning of the church in preparation for our Thankful Service. This included thorough cleaning and organizing so that everything would be ready to honor God with excellence the following day. This time of service was done with thankful hearts, understanding that preparation is an act of worship. On November 30, during our Thankful Service, I continued serving in cleaning, hospitality, and Sunday School. In addition, I was asked to sing during the service, which was a meaningful honor. I sang the song "Let It Be a Hallelujah," offering it as a prayer of gratitude and surrender to God. It was a powerful moment of worship, celebrating God's faithfulness and goodness, and a reminder that even in every season, our praise can rise as a hallelujah.

This month reminded me that ministry is not just about being seen, but about being faithful. Whether cleaning, teaching, welcoming, preparing God's house, or lifting my voice in worship, every act of service was done unto the Lord. From behind-the-scenes preparation to standing in worship during the Thankful Service, each moment was an opportunity to glorify God with a thankful heart. I am grateful for the privilege of serving and for being part of what God is doing in our church.
