

Rwanda

Time continues to fly by, and I'm so grateful to share a few highlights from February. Thank you for your faithful prayers and generous financial support.

UPCR

This month, I taught on Emotional Wellness at UPCR. I am thankful for the revelation and practical tools we find in scripture that lead to wholeness and true liberty.

We also began a new term of Conversational English classes in the village of Gisasa. Though the students were somewhat shy, they were eager to learn and practice. Each session included Bible lessons and prayer, creating opportunities for both language growth and spiritual development.

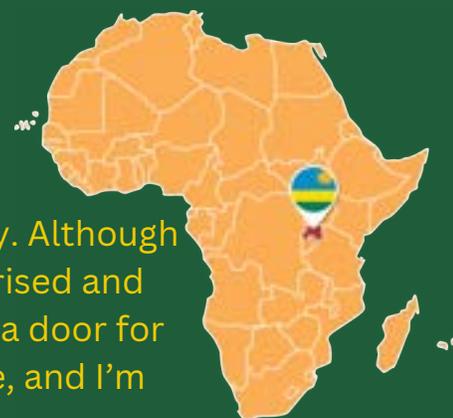

DayStar

I had the opportunity to lead professional development focused on student engagement. Teachers set weekly goals and reflected on their progress, and it was encouraging to see their commitment to growth and excellence.

Transition

A few days ago, I learned that I had nine days to leave the country. Although initially shocked, I rested in the assurance that God was not surprised and that my life is in His hands. I'm grateful that the Lord has opened a door for me to transition to Uganda in early March. He has given me peace, and I'm trusting Him fully for what lies ahead in this next chapter.

Additional Reports

I'm thankful to share that one of my former Rwanda scholars, Merveille, received the Holy Ghost! While attending Northwestern University, she connected a UPCI campus ministry. This month, I was able to meet with the group for a time of study, Q&A, prayer, and encouragement. Several African scholars from Burundi, Rwanda, and Zambia are part of this fellowship.

Another weekend, I met with Everly from Zambia, who had questions about salvation and living a godly life. After our discussion, Everly chose to be baptized.

New disciple Gabi continues teaching his classmates each week. One young lady, Precious, has been sharing the lessons with her family, and now her mother and siblings eagerly await a Bible study in their home.

Additionally, a Bible study we recently translated into Kinyarwanda was used at a training in the Southern Province. As a result, four new believers chose to be baptized in Jesus' name.

Prayer Request

Please partner with me in prayer for:

- God's grace and peace during my transition from Rwanda to Uganda.
- Continued revelation and obedience to the Gospel throughout Rwanda.
- Wisdom, understanding, and favor for the local church leaders in Gisasa as they continue growing and make disciples.
