

Amber Ward 2026

Amber Ward- AIMER to Finland

Field Notes

February has flown by like a whirlwind! It was so full of adventure, busyness, and study. This month, we saw the start of a small campus group! We have had two successful meetings thus far! As well as the addition of some new connections to my friend group. Prayer walking is continuing to be a success at school. Further fellowship was built, which led to a game of Clue at my home, where one of my friends noticed my Bible and started asking questions about the Bible. I have been nominated as the one who gives good advice in the friend group, which is providing inways for Biblical and Godly advice, which some of my friends are actually taking! Many questions have been asked about the Bible and my beliefs specifically which has led to some discussion with people of various religious backgrounds. Pictured below is the Russian Orthodox church where some of the most prominent questions stemmed from, and I was happily able to answer each question and this allowed for some seed planting!

Personal Notes

This month, I went on a hike with friends after the game of clue and we were able to deepen the friendships we had. Religious differences are a thing in my friend group, and this month we had some discussion about what I specifically believe and why, because my friend group is international, not a lot of them have met someone from the UPCI, or at least "someone like you, Amber, you are different". Biblical discussions have been thrown throughout the group this month, as well as more and more prayer requests that they are asking me to pray for. They may not believe now, but they know that my God answers prayers and hears me! They see a difference, so I am praying that this will become clear to them!

with gratitude, Amber Ward
