Prayer Requests:

---

That hungry hearts would be drawn to God, and that seeds planted would prosper.

---

For wisdom as the English club and church program changes shape to accurately fit local needs.

---

For favor with those in authority as the work grows and for wisdom in a season of transition.

---

For easy transition as the “torch” is passed to the next AIMers.

Every Day with Jesus

A Transition

March is the beginning of Spring and has marked a glad transition back into more active work for the team here. English club and service schedules are again finding their rhythms. We are grateful to be here to help get things rolling onto their next phase.

It is also our last month here in Moldova. It is not easy to prepare to leave, but we are excited about what God has in store for this country in the seasons to come.

The MKs

We watched after the little MKs when needed as usual. We are grateful that Silas was able to finally have a procedure done to clear his airways. His recovery was rapid and good to see. Now, both kids are back in school, finding ways to stretch their wings a little farther.

Sunday School

Every Sunday, we taught Sunday School for the MKs and prepped in case other families joined us. Each lesson was an adventure for us all as we learned more about God and His Word.

English Club

The team was able to hold two meetings before we left and will continue as other events allow. My sister and I took part in these alongside the students to help support conversation while the regional missionaries taught the lessons. These were great times of fellowship.

And as Always,

We are grateful to share in what God is doing through this and every season.

God Bless!

March is a special month here in Moldova. Every year, traditional celebrations retell the change from Winter to Spring as a sacrificial love's struggle to break the bonds of frost and death. It has become a time to remember those who sacrifice for others, whether in battle or in daily life. Personally, I found myself reflecting on our Savior who overcame all the darkness of this world and promises an eternal life that rivals any earthly Springtime. I can hardly wait to see it and hope to meet you there! Mattamesc!
