May: More Family, More Friends, More Fellowship

One praise report is that the young woman from Bangladesh has remained in close contact with us. We met with her twice during May, and she has expressed a desire to continue meeting. She is currently at a crossroads in her faith and, while professing atheism at this time, has welcomed our honesty about the prayers we are praying for her and the spiritual journey she is on.

During one of our visits, she told us that if we only reached one person while we were here, it would be worth us being in Scotland. There was a sweet presence of the Lord as we talked together. We are thankful that your prayers and financial support have allowed us to be here and provide an opportunity for God to establish a work in Aberdeen.

In addition, three other families have become increasingly consistent in spending time with us and pursuing deeper relationships. We are grateful to see these connections growing beyond occasional conversations into genuine friendships.

We were also able to attend the Highland Awakening Conference in Elgin. It is always a blessing when the body of Christ comes together to worship the Lord, encourage one another to remain steadfast in the faith, and be reminded that we are not alone in the work God has called us to. It was also a wonderful opportunity to hear testimonies of what God is doing across Scotland and to be strengthened by the faith of fellow believers.

We were so thankful to have the Alwardt family be with us in Scotland for a week! It is so meaningful to have their support not only from afar via video calls and prayer but also allowing us to share in-person our current place of ministry.
