MY FIRST 3 WEEKS IN BENIN

CHURCH THE FIRST 3 WEEKS

We have had 4 Sundays and 2 Saturdays of church in these few weeks where God has done numerous miracles and has filled half a dozen people with the Holy Ghost.

I have also received opportunities to do devotions and also preach and I have also played the bongos a few times. I'm so thankful for the all the ministry experience I'm getting here. Next Steps Benin has truly been the right next step

In the first 3 weeks he had lots of classes where we learned so much. We learned about spiritual warfare, we learned French with our new friend Dodji, and we learned a lot about the culture of Benin to prepare us for the 5 weeks of apprenticeship. We also had the opportunity to learn a lot from an ACN rep and I am very thankful for the time we had with him.

PEOPLE ARE HUNGRY FOR GOD

One notable story that I have from the first week is there was a man painted in all white. that is what they do for voodoo on Sundays. I was at the beach while waiting for our food at the beach restaurant and there was a group of us. And there was man painted in all white. We passed him and I said to my friend beside me that it scared me for a second because I didn't see the statute there the day before. Well come to find out as we walked further to the water I turn around and the man painted in all white is walking right at us and he was walking very fast. Then he just stops right in front of me and stared at me for what felt like 10 minutes. We all tried to ignore him but then finally the missionary came and prayed for him and when he tried he ran away. But a little kid came up to us and wanted to be prayed for and after the man saw us praying for the young boy he also wanted to be prayed for too
