Promises....

They are funny things. In this world we live in many tend to look at promises with some degree of skepticism. Not so with the people of faith and more importantly not so with God. He is the great promiser and He always comes through. We as the people of God simply have to step into His promises.

Over the past year this region has had several heavenly promises given we believe this is the season of stepping into those promises! At our Highland Awakening Conference we received a great promise from the Lord. Thank you for praying for us and believing in Kelsey and I.

Personal Check-in

Kelsey and I are so incredibly blessed to celebrate six incredible years of marriage. Looking back it is amazing to think of two young people standing on that beach in Galveston having discovered the treasure of covenant love. This was our last anniversary before baby Lochlan arrives and so we tried to get as much joy out of it as we could.

We are having so much fun on this adventure of life, ministry, and family together and we are so thankful that God has allowed us this special year of our lives in the Scottish Highlands.

While we miss so many of you just know that we are doing our best to make you proud and to accomplish the will of God. We are thankful for all of you have invested in us and for those of you who have provided excellent models of what a Godly marriage looks like.

For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.

-2 Corinthians 1:20

June

Well if you've been following our journey you can see we've been quite busy! After loads of great visitors and Easter and a organising a whole conference June was a nice change of pace. As summer arrived in a rainy fashion in the Highlands, we continued to see God faithfully building His church through weekly worship, Bible studies, and fellowship.

One of the highlights of the month was the resumption of our Sunday School ministry. We had been limited while we were in the coffee bar due to ongoing repairs in the sanctuary. It was a joy to once again invest in the next generation and see children learning about God's Word each week. Alongside this, our Tuesday Calvary Circles Bible Studies and Thursday Calvary Prayer Circles continued to be the foundation of our church life, bringing us together for fellowship, discipleship, and prayer.

On Father's Day, we celebrated the fathers in our church, making the occasion especially memorable as it was Preston's very first Father's Day as we wait for baby Lochlan to be born. Later in the month, we also celebrated our sixth wedding anniversary, taking time to thank God for His faithfulness to our family and His blessings throughout the years.

June also brought an unexpected honour. Preston was invited to preach the Youth Service at the Great Britain and Ireland UPC General Conference on 7 August in Wales. We are humbled by this opportunity and would greatly appreciate your prayers that God would move in a mighty way, speaking to the hearts of young people from across Great Britain and Ireland.

Thank you for your continued prayers, encouragement, and faithful support. We remain grateful for your partnership as we labour together to see lives transformed by the Gospel here in the Highlands.
